Elberta Peach.

Peach Trees

We are located in the heart of the commercial Peach belt of Virginia and grow Peach Trees in large quantities. Our soil is well adapted for the growing of Peach trees, both in the nursery and orchard. Peaches, therefore, have become one of our specialties. So that we might be in position to better advise the commercial Peach growers, we are continuously studying the different varieties to learn their bad as well as their good points. As far as possible we have eliminated the unworthy varieties, and list only those which have special merit. The result is a shorter, but more desirable list.

Our Peach trees are budded on seedlings obtained from seeds of native Peach trees found throughout Virginia and North Carolina along the Blue Ridge Mountains. We have found that by using these seedlings as roots or understocks we develop hardier and sturdier trees.

For your convenience we are listing our Peaches in ripening order. If better descriptions are needed, write for further information.

Privet Hedge

A Privet Hedge is much cheaper than a fence and far more attractive. It not only serves the purpose of a fence, but is decidedly more ornamental. Do not confuse our privet hedge with the lighter grades often offered as of the same height. Our privet has been grown in nursery rows for two or more years and has been cut back to the ground after its first year. It has many more branches and a much better root system. Therefore, our plants will make a beautiful hedge in a shorter time than the light plants of equal height.

Evergreens

Evergreens are requisite in present-day landscaping. Few plantings are complete without them. They are delightfully beautiful the year round. In spring when they start their new growth they are most interesting. During the summer they present an excellent background for flowering Shrubs and during the winter their live green color adds an expression of cheerfulness and warmth.

We take great pride in our Evergreens and our method of preparing them for our customers. We shear them carefully to make them uniform, compact specimens. When we prepare them for shipment we take them up with the soil in which they were grown and tie the soil firmly about the roots with burlap and rope. You will find that our Evergreens will grow almost without exception.

We pay transportation charges.

They should be planted at intervals of about two weeks apart. By making your first planting the first of May and continuing planting at intervals of every two weeks until the middle of July, you can have blossoms from middle of July until frost.

By all means plant some of the Autumn Queen. This odd variety should be planted in early spring in order to get best results. Unlike most of the other varieties the Autumn Queen will bloom from the first of September until frost. The spikes will often be 3 to 4 feet long.

Grass Seed

Burson Evergreen Lawn Mixture. One of the first duties of Mr. Burson, who is now State Landscape Engineer, on coming to Virginia was to work out a Grass Seed Mixture which would furnish a green turf within a few weeks, be permanent, and green throughout the year. After many experiments and tests a mixture meeting the requirements in Virginia and adjoining States was finally formulated and adopted as the State standard. Burson Evergreen Lawn Mixture is being extensively used for the small home lawn, the city parks, college campus, and wherever a uniform, permanent evergreen sod is required.

Rhodogro

The New Soil Conditioner and Plant Food, "RHODOGRO," has taken the guess-work out of Rhododendron growing.

Rhododendrons, and their kindred broadleaved evergreens, the Azaleas, Kalmias, Andromedas, etc., are lovely things, but many planters hesitate to plant these aristocratic American shrubs because of their exacting soil requirements.

"RHODOGRO" is a scientifically balanced soil conditioner and plant food. Use it on all plants requiring sour soils. "RHODOGRO" contains exactly the proper balance of acids, neutral plant food, and humus. It sours and lightens the soil, and it has high plant food content.

Apply it to your Rhododendron and Azalea beds, and they will show their appreciation with a wealth of gorgeous blooms and healthy, deep green foliage.
